Values

(Legislation is scored according to its support for these values)

Constitutional Government (Consistent with, sanctioned by, or permissible according to the system of fundamental laws and principles that prescribes the nature, functions, and limits of a government)

- The legislation is in accordance with, and supports both the US and State Constitutions, using strict and original interpretation of the Constitutions.

State Sovereignty\States Rights (the full right and power of a state to govern itself without any interference from outside sources or bodies)

- The legislation preserves the sovereignty of the State except where the Federal Constitution explicitly grants Federal supremacy over the State, using strict and original interpretation of the Constitution.

Traditional Values (a collection of guiding principles; what one deems to be correct and desirable in life, especially regarding personal conduct.)

- The legislation supports the values stated in the preamble of the Declaration of Independence:

We hold these truths to be self-evident, that all men are created equal, that they are endowed by their Creator with certain unalienable Rights, that among these are Life, Liberty and the pursuit of Happiness. That to secure these rights, Governments are instituted among Men, deriving their just powers from the consent of the governed, That whenever any Form of Government becomes destructive of these ends, it is the Right of the People to alter or to abolish it, and to institute new Government, laying its foundation on such principles and organizing its powers in such form, as to them shall seem most likely to effect their Safety and Happiness.

Limited and Appropriate Legislation (A law or administrative rule, issued by government, used to mandate or prescribe the conduct of the citizens.)

- Legislation is only passed in support of the Constitution or Constitutional principles, to achieve results where no other reasonable option is available.

Fiscal Responsibility (a moral contract to maintain a financially sound government for future generations on the understanding that a functional society is difficult to maintain without a financially secure government)

- The legislation authorizes allocation of public resources wisely, where constitutionally allowed, only where necessary.

Free Market Principles (Any market in which trade is unregulated; an economic system free from government intervention)

- The legislation favors free market solutions over government intervention.
- The legislation disfavors crony capitalism.

Transparency (Open, public; having the property that theories and practices are publicly visible, thereby reducing the chance of corruption. Obvious; readily apparent; easy to see or understand.)

- The legislation supports free and open legislative processes.
- The legislation is presented and passed in a manner that allows full opportunity for citizen review, comment, and feedback.
- The legislation is written such that citizens can understand the language and intent of the legislation, and why the legislation is necessary.
